Statement Regarding War in Iraq - Update

Now that the initial conflict in Iraq has subsided, we are pleased to report that all of our covered members who had been travelling in affected areas during the war are safe.

While World Access and all of our affiliates within the Mondial Assistance Group had been placed on high alert, our formalized disaster response plan, the K-Plan, did not need to be activated. Our daily tracking of assistance cases opened in regions of conflict also proved to be a very effective crisis-prevention strategy. World Access and our sister companies were able to monitor these cases closely, and all covered members were either returned home or released from treatment without problem.

As a global assistance company, we will continue to monitor current events and developments as Iraq and the Middle East recover from the war. For the time being, we are thankful that the primary conflict is over, and we hope for peaceful rebuilding for all those involved.
